Eubena Nampitjin: Art and Life

This exciting new 90-page publication from Warlayirti Artists celebrates the life and work of one of Australia's leading Indigenous artists. Eubena Nampitjin has been painting for almost two decades and has achieved significant recognition both nationally and internationally.

Eubena Nampitjin: Art and Life is the first publication to focus on the life and art of this remarkable artist. The publication includes 48 colour plates of the artist's paintings selected from across her career.

An appreciation and understanding of Eubena's art is enhanced by knowledge of her life and her history. This book brings together the stories of her life and her art, both visually and in words. An essay by Judith Ryan, Senior Curator of Indigenous Art at the National Gallery of Victoria, considers the art of Eubena, the development of her painting style and her influences.

A second essay by Samantha Togni, Director of Warlayirti Artists, in collaboration with Eubena Nampitjin and her daughter Jane Gimme gives some insights into the life of this strong Kukatja woman and the dramatic changes she has witnessed in her 80 years of life.

Eubena Nampitjin: Art and Life is an elegant and professional publication with quality stitch binding and beautiful colour reproductions. It is an important inclusion to any art lover's library.
